1. Read the text and name the challenge in the main character is confronted with.
2. Analyse how the character feels about the situation he/she is in and why he/she does so. Give evidence from the text.
3. Comment on the character's situation. Is it a situation that puts him or her at a crossroads?

She was 15 when they took the baby. She wrote every week, 18 years of letters to the adoption people.

When she was 33, Stevie walked in, his dead father's spit. He had read 938 letters in two weeks. He'd come to say he didn't want to be in touch.

Every day read one chapter of Fuzzy Mud again and post your thoughts in one tweet. You can use up to 288 characters (letters, numbers, blanks...) per tweet.

Start with the date and your name as you can see in the example! Always use the same color!

Tuesday, November 2:

Tamaya: There is a new boy in our school, he told us that he had been bitten by a werewolf, but I don't believe half of that. Boys always want to show off in front of there friends or girls. I don't like that and I don't like the boy. I was so excited about talking to the boys, but when I said something things changed. They were all looking at me oddly and even Hope and Monica said something mean to me, just to look good in front of the boys. I don't know how to feel about today. I just have a really strange feeling.

Tuesday, November 2:

This day just didn't happen to be a good day. But tomorrow will be a new chance to be a good day, so I'm not upset because today didn't go as planned. I hope tomorrow they all will have forgotten what happened today at lunchtime.

Tuesday, November 2:

After school Marshall seemed really different than usual. He looked kind of scared and strange. I don't know why. And instead of taking our normal way back home, he said he knew a shortcut and headed towards the woods. I was really scared and did not know what to do, but I didn't wanted to leave him, because I'm not allowed to walk home alone so I just followed him....

Marshall Walsh:

Tamaya: I really like Marshall. I had a crush on him all the time, but when this new boy came into his class he started to act different, in a negative way. Please Marshall if you see this: Please be yourself again. Be the boy I uesd to like sooo much.

Tuesday, November 2:

Tamaya: After we disappeared into the woods, I've had a strange feeling. Marshall did not look like he knew the way, but I trust him so I followed him deeper and deeper into the forest. I have torn my sweater and don't know how to explain that to my mom. After some time the boy who sat next to me during lunch appeared and asked for Marshall. At that point I got so scared.

The Ergie:

Tamaya: Is this boy here to save us or what is he up to? He did not seem to be in a good mood. Let's just hope he helps us.

Tuesday, November 2:

Tamaya: Chad, that's his name. When Marshall saw him I knew immediately that he was scared. I could feel the tension between them and I knew Chad was not there to help us. When Chad started to punch Marshall I was so scared that I just grabbed some of the fuzzy mud and threw it into Chad's face. He covered it with his hands and it seemed to hurt him. We did not dare to look back and ran away, when recognized that my hand had started to feel different.

One Little Ergonym:

Tamaya: My hand still feels fizzy, like a freshly opened can of soda. I don't know what to do. Do you have any ideas what I could do?

Tuesday, November 2:

Tamaya: When my mom came home she first did not see that there were bumpy spots all over my hand. When she saw it I told her that it is sort of a rash. I hope it is only a rash and not something worse than that. I also hoped that Chad is fine, because I'm quite sure that the rash comes from the fuzzy mud and I put it in his face😬. I don't want to think of what he will look like when he returns to school. He must be so angry. I'm getting really scared of his reaction. Still guys do you have any ideas how to get rid of the rash?

Wednesday, November 3:

Tamaya: When I woke up this morning my hand still looked swollen and there were even more bumpy spots. I wonder why.... I hope it's not getting worse. If someone in school sees this😬. That would be so embarrassing and they would start to ask questions about it but I don't want to tell anybody about yesterday. I am also really nervous... How is Chad going to react? How does he look like? Does he have bumpy spots all over his face? Will he beat us again?

Live from Heath Cliff – a radio interview

After the three children have disappeared into the woods, lots of media people arrive in Heath Cliff to interview people at the scene.

Your group tries to get as much information as possible about

Tamaya

One of you is the interviewer who interviews people who are close to her.

Find out what the following people would probably say about Tamaya:

- ▶ her mother
- ▶ her best friend Monica
- ▶ her father (who has come over from Philadelphia)
- ▶ the headmistress Mrs. Thaxton

You can also include other people who are close to Tamaya.

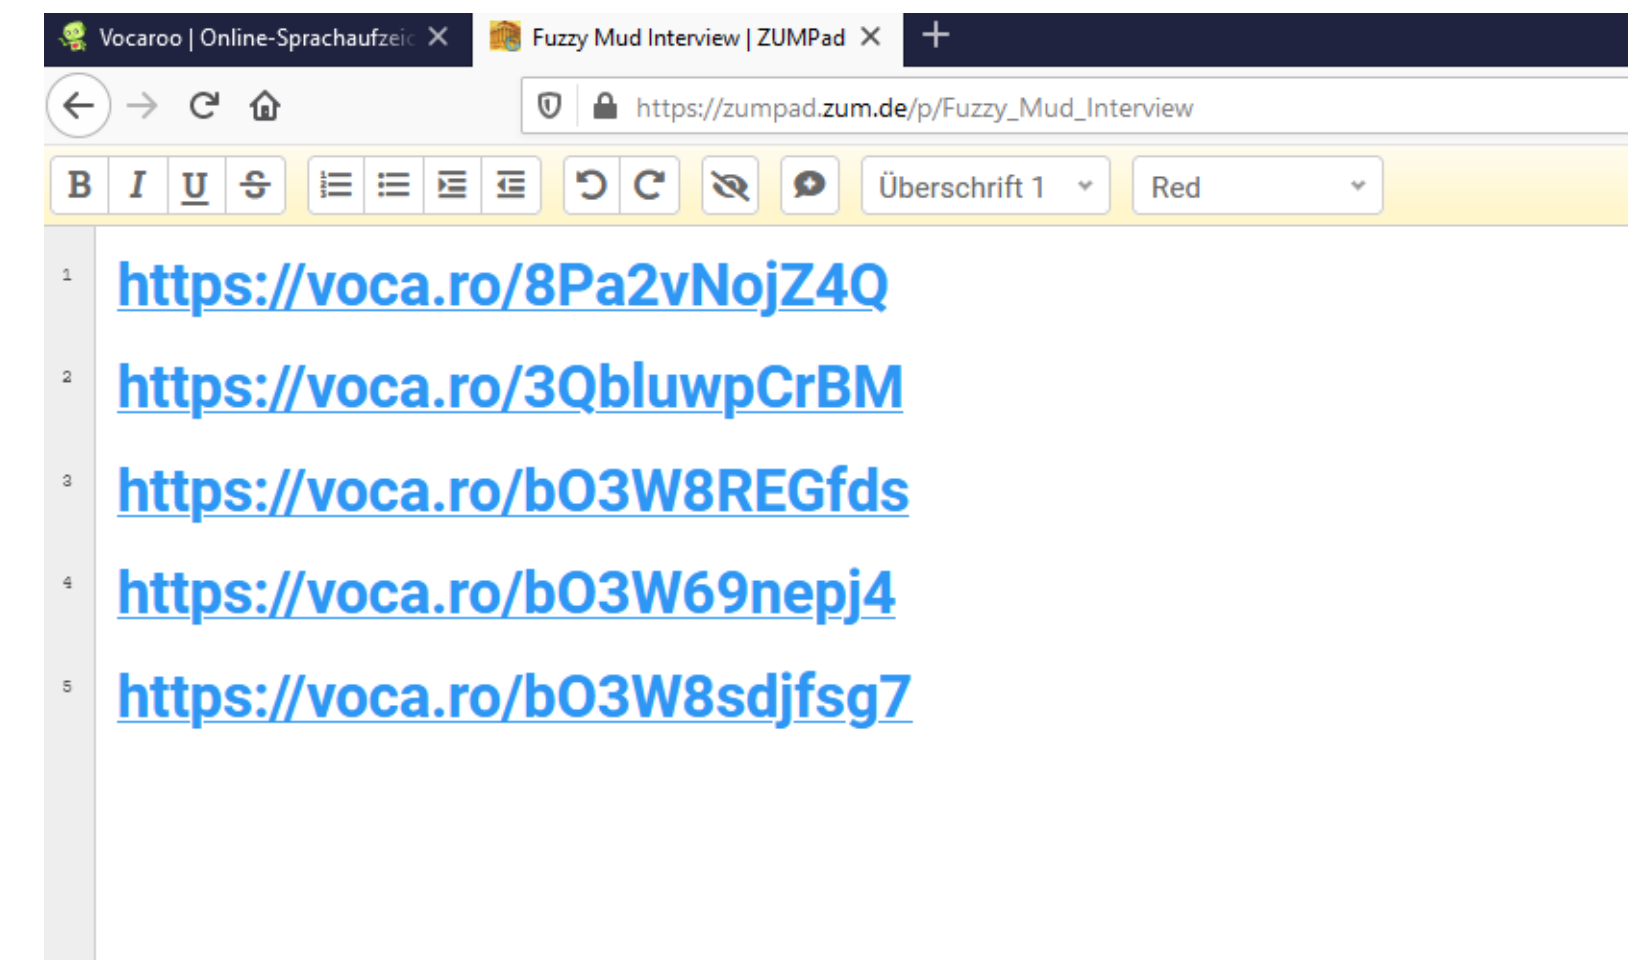

Ask about:

- ▶ how the person knows Tamaya and what he/she knows about her
- ▶ her character and usual behavior
- ▶ what happened on the day she disappeared

Practise your interview and then act it out in front of the class. You can also record it, if you want to.

The task

Dear class,

please record yourself directly via TaskCards or with the website "vocaroo" (see link below).
Your recording should be 1 - 2 minutes long.

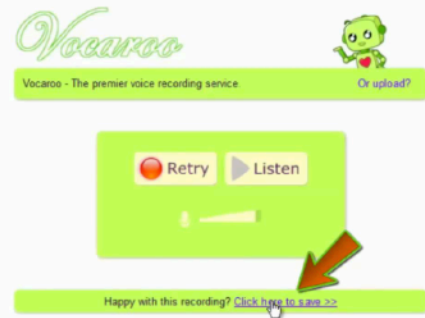

The topic you should talk about is:
MY FAVOURITE OBJECT
(-> e.g. backpack, dancing shoes, ring, diary, perfume, pen (not a person or an animal!))
Tell us why it is your favorite object (special meaning for you?), the history behind it, how you use it etc.
Please make sure to write down your name!
If you want, you can add a photo of the object.

Best,

6 The ransom

It was a Wednesday afternoon, sometime around 4.30 p.m., I guess, when the kid first came up to my office. 'McGill', it says on the door. 'J. McGill. Private Detective'. Not a bad job. A tough one at times, I admit, but that's the way I like it. It was a beautiful October day, I remember, and the maple trees down on Commercial Street were blood red against the deep blue sky. From up in my office on the fourth floor, I can see right over Boston Harbour to Charlestown Bridge. But on that afternoon, like most days, I had pulled down the blinds, so the sunlight was coming through in stripes.

15 "You've got to help me, Mr. McGill! You –"
"Now wait a minute!" The kid was scared. I noticed that the moment he burst into my office. "Keep cool, kid. Let's start at the beginning, OK? What's your name, then?"
20 "Wainwright. Nelson Wainwright. You know my brother Steve, right?"
"Oh? Steve Wainwright? Yeah, I remember him, sure." So Nelson here was the younger of the Wainwright brothers. Their father owned the Wainwright Corporation. Rich, stinking rich. I knew Steve from a few years back, when we'd played baseball together. Since then, Steve had left Boston and now lived in L.A., as far as I knew.
30 ■ I looked at the kid in front of me. How old would he be? Twenty, twenty-one maybe? "OK, Nelson, so what's wrong? Something wrong at home? You left home or something?" The kid was carrying a small suitcase, I noticed. 35

"No, Mr. McGill. It's not that. It's my girlfriend, Mr. McGill. She –"
"Call me Butch. Everybody else does. – So, what's this about your girlfriend?"
"She's been kidnapped! And the kidnappers are demanding a ransom of half a million dollars! I've got to hand over the money by tomorrow night. They –"
"Wait a minute, Nelson. You say your girlfriend has been kidnapped? And you have to pay the kidnappers? Now, that sounds kind of strange. Why don't the kidnappers try to get the money from her parents?"
"Gloria doesn't have any parents. They died years ago. And they weren't exactly rich." 40
Unlike the Wainwrights, I thought.
"OK, I understand," I said. "Now tell me, when did this happen?"
"Last night. Gloria told me she was going out with some friends and would call me when she got back to her apartment. But she never did! And this morning I got this phone call from the kidnappers."
"And you don't have any idea who these kidnappers might be?" 60
"No, Butch. All I know is they're going to kill Gloria if they don't get their money. I've got to make sure they get it. I've got to get Gloria back alive!"
He put the small suitcase down on a chair. 65
"The money's in there. Keep it for me, Butch, till tomorrow. I –"
"You what? You're telling me there's half a million dollars in that suitcase? Are you crazy? Where did you get the money, kid?" 70
"Out of my father's safe. My parents are away just now – but they may be back at any time! I can't risk being found with the money in my room at home. My father would go crazy if he knew I'd taken it! He doesn't like Gloria. Help me, Butch, please!"
"Who is this girl, Nelson? Gloria who?"
"Hammersmith. That's her name. She –"
"You needn't tell me. Gloria Hammersmith, the model, right? Wasn't she Tony Cavori's 80

The Ransom – The story and beyond

You will work in pairs

You have 60 minutes

Group 1:

- Write a newspaper article about Wednesday, Thursday or Friday, you will be given the day.
- Write about the events from the point of view of a journalist.
- Make it big, make it sensational, make it interesting, make it flashy.
- Take a picture and put it into the article.
- Use www.paulnewsman.com and publish it.

KIDNAPPERS WANT A SUM OF 500.000 DOLLARS

10. Mai 2019 von Sushi woof

Winnie Pooh

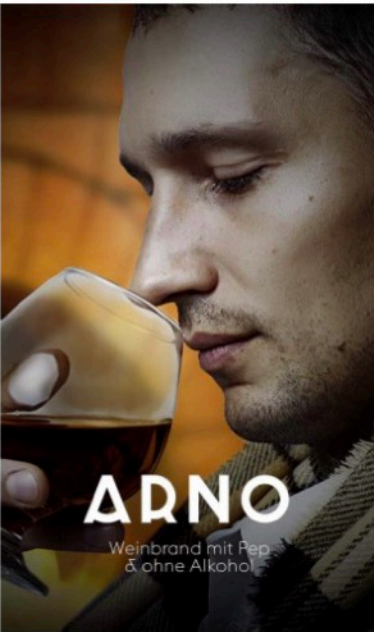

On Thursday afternoon, the kidnappers contacted Nelson Wainwright again. They had already called him on Wednesday and had told him that his wonderful girlfriend, Gloria Hammersmith, the famous model, had got kidnapped by them. The people who kidnapped her wanted money from her boyfriend because her parents had died years ago. The poor boy has to pay half a million dollars.

Many people were waiting in front of the millionaire's House and asked how Gloria was and when he would get her back again. Some of the people were Gloria's friends. But the boy didn't want to give us more information about the kidnappers or how Gloria was.

The money was kept in an unknown place, where nobody could find it. It is probably from his rich father... Maybe he gave it to a close friend or maybe he already gave it to the kidnappers. It could even be that he and the kidnappers are working together with Nelson and he just wants his father's money, since the father never gives much money to his son. What if there never was a kidnapping and the Wainwrights just want the attention of the public? Because the Wainwrights cooperation has lost plenty of money the last few months.
